Open Ended Questions

Please provide any additional feedback on the instructor/course.

- Eduard knows the material that he is teaching, and knows it well. He never fails to make the lecture interesting, especially with the examples that he uses for what we are learning.
- I enjoyed my experience in this course. I valued my professor's lecture style and found the class more enjoyable because of it.
- Eduard is a very intelligent professor in the field of macro-economics. In class I felt it was very hard to maintain his pace while he never stopped talking or writing on the whiteboard (even after students asked him to slow down). The homework and exams were very difficult and stressful especially for being a 104 economics class.
- So, I know that it was maybe a problem with the room setup but doing this on a PowerPoint or something online would be so much more efficient~ You would save time to be able to explain more and that way you can also have all of your lessons online for forever and it ultimately saves you a lot of time, instead of writhing it over and over for every class you teach. Also, your notes are a little wordy- you can simplify your written explanations of things and it will save you time. But! It is really confusing to me when you use so many acronyms. Plus and maybe giving more real life examples or something where I didn't feel like I was about to fall asleep in class. And not to say give a whole class period devoted to examples but maybe one or two things that go with the lesson ~ that would be help. And one last thing, I'm going to be real~ you asked for our input in the middle of the semester and it seemed like every time we had a suggestion for you on how to teach us better you came up with a reason why you didn't want to do it or couldn't do it. The only reason we said anything was because you asked our opinion~ if you didn't want to change anything than next time don't ask.
- I think the course was very useful and educational, but I think it will be more organized if you used overhead presentations for notes so that it wouldn't so difficult to read off the marker board.
